Why agencies choose Feith

Feith is a trusted provider of software solutions, widely recognized for its powerful security and compliance capabilities by federal government agencies, the Department of Defense (DoD), and the Intelligence Community (IC).

Solutions Built for Federal

Decades of collaboration with both defense and civilian sectors have established us as a trusted partner for government.

Compliance by Default

Full-featured toolkit for improving compliance with record keeping, auditing, security, privacy, and CUI/PII.

Automate & Enhance

Leverage interconnected content with built-in automation features to enhance decision-making across the lifecycle.

Modernize Process

Reduce data silos, improve access, and provide simpler control of content by centralizing to 1 interface.

Enterprise Grade and Made in America

Feith Systems began by providing secure records and information management solutions for the DoD and Intelligence sectors. Today, it has expanded to offer the same high-security solutions to commercial businesses requiring rigorous information management.

Solutions For Federal Government

Feith Systems has spent over 45 years helping federal agencies tackle complex challenges with secure, compliant, and mission-ready technology. With 63% of our team holding security clearances, we bring a deep understanding of government needs and the expertise to deliver results. As agencies face growing pressure to modernize, including mandates like NARA's Memorandum M-23-07 requiring electronic record-keeping, Feith provides the tools to meet those demands. Our platform combines intelligent automation, AI-driven records management, and low-code customization to reduce manual work, streamline workflows, and replace aging systems without disrupting operations.

At the core of our offering is RMA IQ for Government, built specifically to support the full lifecycle of federal records while ensuring compliance with the Federal Records Act and NARA guidelines. It runs in secure, private environments tailored to each agency, enabling high performance without compromising on control or security. Feith also enhances transparency, public engagement, and interagency collaboration by integrating seamlessly with existing government systems.

What Makes Feith Powerful

Better Accountability

Feith is recognized as a leading platform for automating Federal Records Management. With strong partnerships within NARA and the FARO community, Feith establishes benchmarks that promote transparency and compliance in records management. Our solutions are designed to ensure that agencies can meet strict regulatory requirements with confidence, enhancing accountability throughout the records lifecycle.

Better Productivity

Feith revolutionizes agency operations by digitizing workflows and automating routine tasks, drastically cutting down on paperwork and errors. This digital-first strategy ensures compliance with all actions tracked and recorded systematically. The platform boosts efficiency by accelerating process cycles and facilitating quick access and sharing of information, enhancing data-driven decision-making.

Better Content Control

Feith gives you detailed control over your content management processes. You can manage who sees and edits documents, set specific review and approval workflows, and use features like PII detection to protect sensitive data. Automated redaction and precise retention tools help maintain privacy and ensure compliance with regulations. This enhanced control helps streamline operations and boost data security throughout your organization.
